Symposia Sponsors

Abbreviated Agenda

Welcome

Lesli Ahonkhai, MA
Assistant Director
Florida Department of Health in Orange County

In Sickness and In Wealth Viewing and Forum

Mike Mason Florida Department of Health Office of Minority Health

Breakout Sessions

(to be repeated following lunch)

Same Determinants, New Approach:
The Health Equity Movement
Swannie Jett, DRPH, MSc
Health Officer
Florida Department of Health in Seminole County

What Are the National Culturally and Linguistically
Appropriate Service Standards?
Ericka Burroughs-Girardi, MA, MPH
Community Health Coach

Lunch Keynote Address:

Adewale Troutman, MD, MPH, CPH

Toward Health Equity Roundtables: Exploring Your Role

Advancing public health leadership to address the determinants of health and reduce health inequities

Exchanging knowledge and leadership opportunities for collaborative action on the determinants of health

Identifying enabling factors, opportunities and challenges to support health professional and community partnerships in advancing health equity

Closing Remarks & Charge

Greg Danyluk, PhD, MPH
President
Florida Public Health Association

Your Florida Public Health Association Presents

January 27, 2015

Gulf Coast State College 5230 W Highway 98 Panama City, Florida

January 30, 2015

CREATION Health Conference Center 601 East Rollins Street Orlando, Florida

The Regional Health Equity

Symposia will offer engaging learning environments to share practical definitions of health equity and the National Culturally and Linguistically Appropriate Service (CLAS) Standards. Participants will dialogue and exchange information about local challenges to achieving health equity and strategies for implementing CLAS.

Participants will leave knowing how they can create a positive and lasting change where they live, work, and play. The agenda will include speakers from the state and county health departments and academia working to achieve health equity in the state of Florida.

Symposia Learning Objectives

Participants who attend a Regional Health Equity Symposium will learn:

- 1. How to distinguish health equity from health disparities.
- 2. How they can contribute to improving health equity in Florida.
- 3. What is CLAS and how does it advance health equity.
- How FPHA can support local communities advancing health equity and CLAS.

Event Highlights

Featuring a keynote address by Health Equity Pioneer Dr. Adewale Troutman, Associate Dean for Health Equity & Community Engagement at the University of South Florida's School of Public Health and former President of the American Public Health Association

Adewale Troutman, MD, MPH, CPH

Unnatural Causes Town Hall Forum

Breakout Sessions and Roundtable Discussions

Who Should Attend?

The symposia are open to ANYONE with an interest in health equity and CLAS. Additionally, FPHA encourages the participation of

- Public health practitioners
- Clinicians
- Researchers
- Community health workers
- Community and urban planners
- Nonprofit partners
- Social workers
- Students

Registration Fee

$35.00

Includes lunch and the FPHA Health Equity and CLAS Toolkit

Registration Deadline

January 20, 2015

Register at

FPHA.org